MOTHERS HOPE TO FIND MISSING SONS

With the surrender of the German navy and the opening of the German ports to the allied fleet, two Memphis mothers of seamen aboard the visiting Collier Cyclops, which was mysteriously swallowed in March, are anxiously awaiting news of their sons. The report that the vessel has been found.

Port, if it is located, it means that their sons are in German prison camps and soon will be released. Neither has given up hope of clasping her son in her arms.

Mrs. H. H. McClain, 218 McLennan avenue, mother of Seaman George B. McClain, 22 years old, a freeman aboard the Cyclops, has never despaired of her son's homecoming, and she has prepared a postcard of newspaper clippings about the vessel for him to read when he returns.

The other mother is Mrs. V. Taylor, 711 Richmond avenue, whose son, Howard A. Taylor, 22 years old, is eagerly awaiting news from the bottled-up German harbor.

The Cyclops was last seen off the Barbadoes March 4. At that time there were no submarines nor raiders known to be lurking, and no storm was raging.

Besides, the Cyclops had a powerful wireless, which was never heard from. Captain Worley, who disappeared with his ship, was a man of proven patriotism, with 26 years service in the American navy, and the navy department has officially announced the trace of the missing collier.

MEMPHIS C. E. UNION TO HEAR CHAS. EVANS

The Memphis C. E. Union, composed of the various Christian Endeavor societies of Memphis, will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday night, Dec. 7, at 8:00 o'clock at the Linden Avenue church. The speaker will be Charles Evans, all South field secretary, will make an address. Evans is a speaker of national fame, and his address is expected to be one of the most interesting of the season.

In line with this meeting a big rally will be held at the Linden Avenue church, all the young people of the city are invited to attend both meetings.

SPIRITUAL POWER IS SUBJECT FOR SERMON

"Spiritual Power" was Rev. Ben Cox's subject at the noon prayer meeting Thursday.

When the fourth bridge was built a great celebration was announced for the day when the great arms of the bridge were to be united, but the cold weather caused the iron to contract, and although great efforts were made the parts would not meet. The people went away discouraged. Next morning, however, the sun was shining brightly and by its heat expanded the metal and all the riveters had to do was to drive home the bolts.

"We may be very busy engaged with our church work, using lots of effort and making lots of noise, and yet accomplish meager results, but if the sunshine of his power is upon us we cannot fail," said Rev. Cox.

Rev. Cox was to preach again Friday at 12:30 o'clock on the "Ascension of Christ."

RETAILERS' PAY-UP DRIVE BIG SUCCESS

Memphis is again being put on the map, according to the Retail Credit Association. The pay-up campaign is being closely watched throughout the country, and one of the largest in the United States is asking for data on which to make a similar campaign, it was announced at the Thursday luncheon of the association at the Gayoso.

Great results have attended the campaign, which has not yet closed. Collections unprecedentedly large were reported for November; the campaign started on Nov. 3 and it was announced that the physicians' and dentists' associations may identify themselves with the association.

HAD THREE GOBBLEERS FOR XMAS; ALL GONE

Three large turkey gobblers which graced the back yard of K. R. Armistead, 152 Peabody avenue, are reported missing and Armistead is on the warpath looking for the thief. The turkeys were presented to the family by friends for Christmas. They weighed about 17 pounds each.

DRUG STORE ROBBED.

By forcing the transferee over the front door, a thief broke into the drug store of S. W. Dickinson, 734 Poplar avenue, some time after 11 o'clock Thursday night and stole several dollars from the telephone pay station. The robbery was detected Friday morning and the suspected telephone box was found in a nearby lot. Nothing else was disturbed.

HOST TO UNDERWRITERS.

J. B. Marmen, aided by J. M. Smith, John E. Lipette, Warren Pullen and William Sibley, will be host to the Memphis Life Underwriters' association at a dinner at Hotel Chisca Saturday evening. A program of addresses and music has been prepared.

LINEN IS STOLEN.

Mrs. M. E. Carter, 1675 Central avenue, reports to police the theft of a linen collar, a dozen linen handkerchiefs, cuffs and a table cloth from her home, the theft being learned Thursday.

THIEF GETS $72.

A pickpocket was enriched $72 Thursday night when he lifted the wallet of F. G. Banning, of the Gulet tin company, as he boarded a street car on Florida street and Iowa avenue. Banning reported the theft to police.

AMUSEMENTS

Loew's Lyceum.

Comedies, music and comedy held the boards at Loew's Lyceum for the three days of this week, the comedies being supplied by the production, "Captain Kidd and Company," the comedy being "Daisy Bell" and the musical being "The Girl in the Red Velvet Gown."

The bill in its entirety is one of the most acceptable in several weeks, and it is of a popular type which will appeal to the great majority of theatergoers. "Captain Kidd and Company" is a play in one act based upon the pirate story, and one of the most acceptable features of the act is the singing of the individual members. The singing of the songs carried in all the theaters of the city is a decided success, and special scenic effects are used.

Both Challa sang way into the raver of her audience Thursday afternoon and evening with a revue of exclusive songs put over in a most pleasing and entertaining manner.

Wilkins and Wilkins, one of whom is Charles Wilkins, known as the original comic monologist, afford many laughs in their comic illustration of how not to learn to dance, which they have called "The Tango Lesson." Wilkins is an adept in pantomime, and he garners many laughs. George and Lily Garden in xylophone melodies prove one of the most popular numbers of the bill.

The band of the frozen North, with humorous snow pits and the ever-present wolves, afford the background for "The Law of the North," the absorbing story in which Charles Fay is featured. This is undoubtedly one of the most interesting stories, and the bill filled with little and interesting. Loew's new weekly and other shows complete the bill.

Orpheum.

Leslie Browning, at the Orpheum, is again a single act attraction, but he is now having gone to war. Before forming a professional association with the Orpheum, Browning was one of the vaudeville's most popular singles. Her delineation of exclusive songs could always be depended upon for a positive hit. Her present offering is labeled "Back Again." It may be applied as one measure, Mrs. Browning has a song in that name and she herself, more attractive than ever, is back again. Her songs are dispersed with a number of impersonations. She has really got the spirit of those she attempts to portray. With her impersonations and her songs, she entertains a decidedly pleasant 15 minutes to this week's bill.

BLOCKER ACQUITTED.

Upon motion of attorney for the defense for peremptory instructions to the jury, James Blocker, charged with stealing hard from an interstate shipment, was acquitted in federal court Thursday.

MENTH-ALB

MENTH-ALB is so highly praised by all who have used it, because it DOES WHAT IS CLAIMED FOR IT.

It does what is claimed for it because it is a combination of volatile oils that have for years been recognized as the best for the purpose intended.

Menth-Alb combines such well-known ingredients as Eucalyptol, Menthol, Camphor with snow-white petrolatum. Everyone knows the medicinal virtues of these. Menth-Alb will not stain the hands or clothing.

Menth-Alb relieves cold in head quickly. It is excellent for sore throat, catarrh, croup, neuralgia, headache as a freckle in pneumonia, pleurisy, asthma. As an antiseptic it will prevent infection from cuts, scratches, bruises, burns, sores and insect bites, at the same time cooling them, soothing them and assisting them to heal.

Just try Menth-Alb once and you will never be without it in the future. Get a 5c package at your druggist today.

TEACHERS SOLICITS ARE NOVELL

Second Walkout of Educators of City Schools Is Probable If Definite Action Is Not Taken on Salary Increase.

At a meeting of the educational committee of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon, so many fine speeches were made and the conviction that the city teachers are entitled to more pay was so freely expressed, that a delegation of teachers in attendance at the meeting got the impression that something was being done to meet the demand for increased pay. It was agreed that if the board would drop the suit the city commission, through its legislative delegation, would pass a bill giving the schools additional revenue sufficient to meet the increased demand by the teachers. The board agreed to the proposition and it has been assumed that all the teachers had to do was to wait the convening of the legislature, see that the bill was introduced and passed. The third day of the legislature, which was held at the office of the board, the teachers' walkout was a surprise.

Prof. Wharton S. Jones, president of the teachers' association, said at the meeting that the bill was already drawn and that the city commission was pledged to see that it was enacted into law. But the surprise of the meeting was occasioned when someone inquired if the teachers' delegation was pledged individually to support the measure. It seems that only three or four have expressed themselves as unequivocally in favor of the bill, some are non-committal and one or two were "tied" to the teachers who called upon them.

In view of this remarkable circumstance, a motion was made by J. E. Holmes, who passed, indicating the teachers' claims, asking the board of directors to get behind the movement in their behalf and assuming that the committee would appear before the legislative delegation and urge its endorsement of the bill. Representative S. J. Ellis, representing the Nineteenth Century club, said she would like to go along and was told that she might be asked to do so. She said she might as well go and see that the bill was enacted into law, and that she might as well go and see that the bill was enacted into law.

The teachers returned to their work with the understanding that they were to receive additional pay as soon as the legislature convened and a local measure could be rushed through. It was said for them that they were skeptical at the time, and in answer to argument said that they had been receiving fair promises for years and not much of anything else.

It is freely predicted that unless the teachers receive the increase they have been promised, they will walk out and perhaps there will be no spring term of the schools. If the bill is not passed there will be no way left by which they can be given more pay for the reason that the legislature alone can provide the source of revenue.

The teachers' interest which the teachers claim their cause is receiving is a matter of grave concern, and unless the Memphis public awakens to the situation, it will not be surprising if there should be a repetition of the occurrence of last fall.

On the other hand, it is extremely difficult to arouse the people to any great excess of enthusiasm over the prospect of paying additional taxes. At any rate, the situation is a problem of developing to the point not only of whether the word to the teachers is to be kept, but whether school is to be kept.

Surprise Is Sprung.

Prof. Wharton S. Jones, president of the teachers' association, said at the meeting that the bill was already drawn and that the city commission was pledged to see that it was enacted into law. But the surprise of the meeting was occasioned when someone inquired if the teachers' delegation was pledged individually to support the measure. It seems that only three or four have expressed themselves as unequivocally in favor of the bill, some are non-committal and one or two were "tied" to the teachers who called upon them.

May Strike Again.

The teachers returned to their work with the understanding that they were to receive additional pay as soon as the legislature convened and a local measure could be rushed through. It was said for them that they were skeptical at the time, and in answer to argument said that they had been receiving fair promises for years and not much of anything else.

TELEGRAM SAYS MORRIS RELEASED FROM PRISON

Mrs. John W. Morris, of Somerville, Tenn., Friday morning received a telegram from the adjutant-general of the United States army stating that Capt. Morris was reported released from the German prison camp at St. Paul, and passed through Switzerland on Nov. 29 on his way to France.

So direct word has been received from Capt. Morris since the latter part of August. Capt. Morris, 35 years of age, was an American citizen and was captured in October with Capt. Puryear and Capt. Willis, who were traveling upon his arrival in the United States and that no medical officers attempted to escape as they were on their honor on account of certain privileges that were given them. He said that Morris was getting plenty of exercise from playing poker. The information that there was a deck of cards in the camp leads the captain's friends in Fayette county to believe that he is traveling first class, and not luxuriously.

Capt. Morris was assigned by the United States to the British army in June, 1917, and was in medical charge of a battalion of the Black Watch, a famous regiment of Scottish Highlanders from Scotland, nicknamed by the Germans "The Ladies from Hell."

MOORE FUNERAL HELD FROM CALVARY CHURCH

The body of Mrs. Charlotte, Hood Moore, who died in Chicago Wednesday, reached Memphis Friday morning and funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon by Rev. W. B. Buckner at the Calvary Episcopal church, internment was private.

Mrs. Moore, Mrs. C. W. Schutte and Mrs. Edmond Lybrand, both of Little Rock, came to Memphis Thursday night to attend the funeral. They were accompanied by Mrs. Frank F. Hill, A. G. Lett, John W. Proudfit, Thomas M. Scruggs, Walter Leach, Edmond L. Gardiner and Norman Fontaine.

Mrs. Moore was the wife of the late William H. Moore, wholesale dry goods merchant of Memphis, whose business bore his name. Since her husband's death, several years ago, Mrs. Moore had not resided in Memphis.

LIEUT. WHITSON HOME.

MARTIN, Tenn., Dec. 5. (Sp.)—Lieut. E. H. Whitson, who left here in one of the first draft calls, has returned home with an honorable discharge. Whitson's experience in the army has been somewhat unusual. Shortly after reaching camp he was promoted to first sergeant and was repeatedly urged to try for a commission, but he stated he preferred to remain in the ranks and each time refused. He was finally prevailed upon to take the examination for a commission, which he readily passed.
